Lots Of Money

The general committee in charge of the Fourth of July celebration, report that they have succeeded beyond their most sanguine expectations, having secured the contribution of practically fifty per cent. more cash than that raised a year ago.

The result will be that there will be no shortage of cash for the prizes for the many events scheduled, consisting of motor boat races for all sizes of boats, athletic contests of all kinds, from foot racing to climbing the greased pole, sports for young and old, something for everybody, a complete program of which will be published in the Sentinel.

The committees in charge of the various departments of the celebration are,

GENERAL—J G Grant, F Matheson, J H Wheeler.

ENTERTAINMENT—P C McCormack, Miss Wood, Mrs. Thomas.

DECORATION—Ole Johnson, Leo McCormack, Dave Oliver.

TRANSPORTATION—J G Grant,

Wm Lewis, F Matheson.

SPORTS—C M Coulter, Harry Gartley, Andy Lillian.

ADVERTISING—Richard Bushell, J H Wheeler, Donald Sinclair.

Fish Run Deteriorating

The mild cure men report that the king salmon now being taken are falling off so rapidly in quality that the probabilities are that the season will close within the next ten days. The run this year, while it began later than usual, has probably been up to the average, as many of the fishermen have made some exceptionally good catches. The price of mild cured fish has taken a tumble of late, although it is still fair.

First Batch Of Tourists

The Jefferson arrived in north bound Tuesday morning. She brought in some little freight, including meat for "Cash" Coulter, and the first batch of tourists of the season. She remained in port about two hours.

Organize Transportation Co.

At last it is assured that local capital will build and operate boats for transportation purposes on the Stikine River between this place and Telegraph Creek. During the past week Messrs. F. Matheson, J. G. Grant and Will Neill, together with Frank Callbreath of Telegraph Creek, made the necessary preliminary arrangements for organizing a stock company for the purpose of building and operating gasoline boats on the river, the recent trip of Kalkins' Black Fox having demonstrated that a gasoline boat can be successfully operated on the Stikine, if properly handled. The intention of the company at this time, is to get one launch into operation before fall, and then during the coming winter construct a larger and more powerful craft.

John Hyland, of the firm of Hyland & Belfrey, the up-river merchants, has promised to associate himself with the company, so that there will be no question about the new company being able to secure the river business, as they will have everybody in the upper country who are the big shippers interested with them.

They figure that if their plans for the coming winter materialize, they will have equipment enough to handle all the business that may present itself next year.

"Billy" Neill, who as everybody in this section is aware, is a competent gas boat man, will have charge of the operating end of the concern.

Republican Convention

The Republican Territorial Convention, which is to select a candidate for representative to congress will be held in Douglas, Tuesday, June 28 at 11 a. m. This is in accordance with a call issued by L. P. Shackelford, chairman of the territorial Republican central committee.

Under the call each voting precinct where an election was held at the last delegate election, shall be allowed one delegate for every 20 votes cast for the Republican candidate, John W. Corson. New precincts created since the last election shall have one delegate each. The nearest committeeman shall exercise wherever necessary, such power by requiring registration or otherwise, as may be necessary to prevent persons other than Republicans who supported and voted for John W. Corson at the last election from participating in such primaries, and to appoint committees for that purpose and to fix the date and place where such primaries or caucuses are to be held.

Came Home Alone

In spite of all the plugging for him that the Sentinel did last week Fred Willson had to carry his own grip off the boat when he came home this last week, solitary and alone. He reports that he did not get any further away than Prince Rupert, where he went to drum up some business in the lumber line. The Sentinel man has sharpened up his scalping knife for the individual who gave him the "bum steer" last week about Fred having gone away to take unto himself a wife.

Had A Pleasant Time

Mrs. S. C. Shurick, who had been on a trip to the Sound country, returned home on the steamer Jefferson, Tuesday. She reports that the trip was a very pleasant one, but that the best part of it was the home-coming.

Record Trip Up River

"Capt." Kalkins and son Ed., arrived in town Saturday night after a very successful trip up the river on their river boat, the Black Fox. They report that they had established new records for river work for the smaller craft, having gone from Wrangell to Telegraph in fifty hours, actual running time. They stayed at Telegraph and Glenora a couple of days, and then made the run down from the latter place, including a stop of two hours at the boundary, in less than thirteen hours. The engine worked to perfection at all times, and shows what a satisfactory machine the Fox is. Contrary to expectations they made both the Big Rifle and the Canyon without using a line, notwithstanding the fact that the river water was very high. They are expecting to make another trip shortly, with Frank Callbreath who came down with them, and will then be open for charter for trips at any time during the navigation season.

THINK IT OVER

"Refused admission to the White House, the Department of the Interior, the Department of War and the Department of Justice, and ignored by Senator Knute Nelson and other members of the upper house who came in contact with him several years ago, it is apparent that Wickersham's chances of securing for Alaska any legislation of any kind whatsoever, are nil. He will remain in office for another session and the odds are that Alaska's legislative history in Washington will be repeated for another year at the least.

"Looking at matters in the light of past experience, and taking into consideration the fact that a large number of the national legislators are ready and willing to do anything possible to pass legislation beneficial to Alaska, it would appear the part of wisdom to elect a delegate who does not think himself greater than the President of the United States, and the entire Republican administration. Alaska has everything to lose and nothing to gain by its incessant damping of the administration, through its delegate.

"A delegate has no vote, nor favors to bestow. All that he can do is to recommend and if he makes his recommendations in a friendly spirit there is some hope that they will be enacted into laws. By a manifestation of hostility he can accomplish nothing, and in the meantime the development of the country is being retarded."—Seattle Times.

The above taken verbatim from an editorial recently appearing in Seattle's big evening paper tells the truth as it actually exists, as seen by a disinterested outsider. After reading it, an Alaskan cannot be true to himself or the land of his adoption if he lends a hand in any way towards sending the man Wickersham back to Washington. It is not a matter of politics, but of plain ordinary business judgment. Alaska, needing beneficial legislation as badly as she does, cannot afford to continue Wickersham longer as her representative. Why, then, should we send him back where he is without credit, or the hope of accomplishing anything for any of us? Think it over and act accordingly when election day comes.

The call for a Republican convention to meet at Douglas, Tuesday June 28, has been received by this paper. It is signed by chairman L. P. Shackleford, and Secretary M. J. O'Connor, the duly qualified officials of the party organization, and not that brought into being by the Wickersham-Valentine bunch, who have attempted, and failed, to usurp to themselves the party organization.

And now local people have the right hunch and have decided to keep control of the navigation of the Stikine river where it belongs—right here in Wrangell. The river business is ours for the taking, the only condition for us to comply with is to have the necessary craft here to handle that business.

Will Develop Properties

Alec Vreatte will head a party of five or six up the river within the next day or two. They have chartered A. J. Kalkins' power river boat, the Black Fox, which will take them as far up the Iskut River as a boat can get, the hope being that it will be clear up to the property owned by local people, on which Alec goes to do the assessment work. The intention of course is to do this work where it will do the most towards developing the property.

Mrs. John Kadishan died Sunday and was buried Wednesday.

Richard Hofstad launched his remodeled launch Helen the latter part of last week and has since been hard at it finishing the work.

FOR SALE—Complete Steam Laundry. Owner has mining fever. Full and complete plant ready for experienced man. For terms, information, etc., write L. V. Ray, Seward, Alaska.

It is estimated, that during the month of June 15,000 passengers will leave Seattle for Alaska. Many are bound for the Iditarod. The rush to the new diggings is expected to eclipse anything since the days of the Klondike.

The Alaska Commercial company has sent J. F. Warner to make surveys of station sites at Port Graham, Beluga, Susitna and Talkeetna, the latter at the forks of the Susitna river. Mr. Warner surveyed the Valdez townsite last year.

ORDINANCE NO. 33

Fixing the Salaries or Compensation of Appointed Officers of the Common Council of Wrangell, Alaska, from April, 1910, to April, 1911.

"BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL, OF WRANGELL, ALASKA."

SECTION 1. That the salaries or compensation of the appointed officers of the Town of Wrangell, Alaska, for the term ending in April, 1911, shall be as follows:

Salary of Town Clerk, thirty dollars ($30.00) per month.

Salary of Assessor, for the actual time so employed, three dollars ($3.00) per day.

Poundmaster, for each animal impounded or otherwise disposed of as provided for in Ordinance No. 5, seventy-five cents (75c.) per dog. For the removal of small dead animals, such as dogs, cats, etc., the Health Board is hereby authorized to employ some person to perform such work, the maximum price to be paid for such removal to be seventy-five cents (75c.) for each animal so removed, and the Health Board shall designate in what manner dead animals shall be disposed of.

SECTION 2. The Registrar of voters of the Town of Wrangell, Alaska, shall receive the sum of five cents, (5c.) for each name entered upon the Registration Book.

Judges and Clerks of election shall receive the sum of two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) each, for their services at any Regular or Special Municipal election.

SECTION 3. The Town Treasurer shall be allowed the sum of fifty dollars [$50.00] to be paid by the Town of Wrangell, Alaska, at the expiration of the term of office of said treasurer, which allowance shall be made for auditing books and making reports to the Common Council. The Town Clerk shall purchase the necessary blanks, books and stationery for his own use that may be required to do the business for the Town and shall purchase other supplies for the Town as may be necessary or that may be ordered purchased by the Common Council, but shall with each purchase present a bill of same showing articles purchased and from whom purchased.

SECTION 4. The Street Committee are hereby authorized to employ laborers for street work and shall keep the streets and alleys in proper condition and repair. The maximum rate to be paid for such work to be at the rate of three dollars and fifty cents ($3.50) per day for ten hours labor, or thirty-five cents (35c.) per hour.

SECTION 5. The Fire Committee are hereby authorized to employ watchmen for the Town of Wrangell, Alaska, when the same is necessary for the protection of life and property of the inhabitants thereof, and it shall be their duty to see that the watchman so employed performs the duties assigned to him. The pay for this service is hereby fixed at three dollars [$3.00] per day, and the same pay for night service for each person so employed. The number of hours for day or night service to be regulated by the Fire Committee.

SECTION 6. The Water Supervisor shall be paid the sum of four dollars [$4.00] per day for his services while actively employed, ten hours shall constitute one day. Should a lesser time than one day's labor be performed at any time by the said Water Supervisor the sum of forty cents [40c.] per hour shall be paid for such services. For all mechanics or other skilled laborers employed for necessary work on water system, or for other purposes, it is hereby ordered that the going skilled wage rate shall be paid.

SECTION 7. This ordinance shall be published in the issue of June 9th, 1910, of The Wrangell Sentinel, a weekly newspaper published in the Town of Wrangell, Alaska; and be posted in at least three conspicuous places in the Town of Wrangell, Alaska, and shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, approval, publication and posting.

Passed by the Common Council of Wrangell, Alaska, this 2nd day of June, 1910.

Approved this 2nd day of June, 1910.

C. Denny, of the Mint, is filling a long felt want these days. He has installed a hot lunch counter in his place of business, and seems to be doing a land office business. It is a habit with Alaskans not to go to bed these light nights until they have to, and a nice, tasty lunch about midnight goes right to the spot. Denny has it for you. Call in and see.

Lost---A Ladder

Uncle John Beardsall has asked the Sentinel to publish the fact that someone had appropriated the ladder which he has had for some time leading to the chimney on his roof. It disappeared during his absence in Juneau, and is now needed badly. The ladder is painted white, the sides being half rounded. Anyone having the same will please return it to Uncle John.

Frank Callbreath arrived down from Telegraph creek on the Black Fox Saturday evening, and has since been renewing his old acquaintances in town. He has considerable business to transact, which will keep him here for about another week.
